

News Release

April 1, 2010

Save time, use convenient vending machines to buy TTC passes

There is now an easy and convenient way to purchase a monthly or weekly TTC pass. Pass Vending Machines are located at eleven TTC stations. The PVMs make it easier to purchase a monthly or weekly pass by reducing wait times and increasing access.

Customers can use their debit card to purchase monthly and weekly passes. TTC Pass Vending Machines are located at the following stations:

- Bathurst Station
- Bloor Station
- Scarborough Town Centre
- Union Station
- Queen Station
- Islington Station
- St. Clair Station
- Eglinton Station
- Finch Station
- St. Clair Station
- Islington Station

The Toronto Transit Commission moves about 1.5 million riders every weekday. The TTC is the third largest public transit system in North America servicing some 4.5 million people in the Greater Toronto Area, with a network of subways, streetcars, buses, and a specialized service, Wheel-Trans, for people who require accessible transportation. The TTC is committed to meeting the growing needs of the region with subway and light rail expansion, carrying an additional 175 million riders by 2021. Follow the TTC on Twitter at www.twitter.com/TTCNotices.